Peters discloses a media editing system.

Claims 10, 51, 94 and 130 do not comply with section 28.3 of the Patent Act. The subject matter of these claims would have been obvious on the claim date to a person skilled in the art or science to which they pertain having regard to Peters.

Claims 10, 51, 94 and 130 are obvious, because Peters teaches a media editing system for editing source material, which comprises a digitizing apparatus for receiving and digitizing video and audio source material, the video source material including a sequence of images, each spanning both the horizontal and vertical display axes of the video source material; computing apparatus including compression apparatus responsive to the digitizing apparatus, the compression apparatus being for compressing the images from the video source material; mass storage responsive to the computing apparatus to receive the compressed video source material, the audio source material, and the information regarding each adjustment; and output apparatus communicating with the computing apparatus for displaying the manipulated source material. Features of claims 10, 51, 94 and 130 are similar to those defined in the specifications of Peters's reference.

Therefore, claims 10, 51, 94 and 130 do not comply with Section 28.3 of the Patent Act.

In view of the foregoing defects, the applicant is requisitioned, under subsection 30(2) of the Patent Rules, to amend the application in order to comply with the Patent Act and the Patent Rules or to provide arguments as to why the application does comply.

Section 29 of the Patent Rules requisition

Under section 29 of the Patent Rules, the applicant is requisitioned to provide:

- identification of any prior art cited in respect of the European Patent Office application describing the same invention on behalf of the applicant or on behalf of any other person claiming under an inventor named in the present application, and the patent number, if granted, subsequent to the International Search Report under paragraph 29(1)(a) of the Patent Rules.

To satisfy this requisition, applicant should provide all the preceding information or documents, or provide in accordance with subsection 29(3) of the Patent Rules a statement of reasons why any information or document is not available or known.
